

USA National Brain Bee Fact Sheet

The first and only neuroscience competition for high school students in the United States.

Motivates young men and women to learn about the human brain.

Inspires them to enter careers where they can find cures for brain disorders.

Founded by Dr. Norbert Myslinski.

Includes 75 chapters in 40 states.

Chapter winners advance to the Nationals and then the World Championship.

50 Brain Bee countries world wide.

USA Chapter hosts include Penn State, Ohio State, Michigan State, and the Universities of Texas, Maine, Minnesota, Alabama, Iowa, Montana, Alaska, California, Vermont, as well as Tufts, Tulane, Stanford, Purdue, Morehead, Duke, Mercyhurst, Dartmouth, Rice and Brown Universities.

World level sponsors include are Society for Neuroscience, Dana Alliance for Brain Initiatives, American Psychological Association, Federation of European Neuroscience Societies, International Brain Research Organization.

Covered by more than 200 newspapers, radio and television stations and web sites.

Countless USA neurologists and neuroscientists are Brain Bee Alumni.

Topics include sensations, intelligence, emotions, movement, and consciousness, Alzheimer's, autism, and addictions.

Builds Better Brains to Fight Brain Disorders.